

Meeting About Incident

Egyptian Foreign Minister Arranges To Have Conference With Hammarskjöld

CAIRO (AP)—Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi today arranged to fly to Switzerland to meet U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. It was reported Fawzi would take up what the United Arab Republic calls Israeli aggression on its Syrian border.

The U. A. R. of Syria and Egypt yesterday requested an extraordinary meeting of the U. N. Security Council to investigate two days of tank and artillery exchanges near the Lake Huleh reclamation project on the Syrian-Israeli border.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Fawzi would meet Hammarskjöld in Zurich tomorrow.

Egyptians expressed fears that the clashes were part of a general Israeli plan to take over all demilitarized zones along her border.

Fawzi also called in the ambassadors of the United States, Soviet Union and Red China this morning. It was assumed he was informing them of the border situation.

The latest two-hour clash stopped after two cease-fire orders by the U.N. Armistice Commission. Each side accused the other of starting the shooting.

Although each nation claimed the other lost heavily, the Israelis said one of their settlers was killed and three wounded, while the Arabs said two of their officers were killed.

Information Director Saad Afra said the U.A.R. had called for a meeting of the Security Council to consider "a violation of the truce agreement and a danger to peace." A Cairo spokesman had warned earlier that the joint forces of Syria and Egypt would not stand idly by in the face of aggression.

The clashes erupted after the Israelis began digging a drainage canal to take care of flood waters from the Jeleibin Valley, on the Syrian side of the armistice demarcation line. The Israelis claim the waters often flood lands along Lake Huleh which were reclaimed by a drainage project completed last fall.

A Syrian army spokesman said the Israelis moved a crane to the Lake Huleh area and Arab patrols tried to prevent them. He said Israeli troops and tanks then opened up. An Arab spokesman told the Middle East News Agency the Israelis moved 35 armored cars into the zone and began shelling the Syrian villages of Gurnukh, Galbina and Tarbarah despite three U.N. cease-fire calls. The spokesman said the Syrians returned fire and claimed damaging hits on at least five Israeli settlements.

Israel contended it moved troops into the disputed area to protect its workers. It said fighting broke out when the Syrians opened fire on the laborers for the second day.

House Passes KC Police Bill Monday

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—With earlier opposition mollified, the Missouri House passed and sent to the governor the Kansas City police bill yesterday.

It would give the police department a fifth instead of a sixth of the city's general revenues, raise the force from 797 to 1,250 officers and men and boost the pay all along the line.

Also approved by the House was a bill to require motorists to stop even inside cities or towns when a school bus is loading or unloading. The Senate still must approve the conference version of the bill before it can be sent to the governor.

Meanwhile, a House-Senate conference on the major money bills continued to hack away at the closing days of finding appropriation figures both houses could accept.

Judge Not Fooling About Jaywalkers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Police Judge John B. Bradford says he isn't "April fooling" about pedestrians who jaywalk to his court to pay fines.

He said he had watched countless jaywalkers, clutching traffic tickets, twist through heavy traffic in front of city hall.

But one woman topped them all, he said—she parked at a meter showing "violation." Then she jaywalked to city hall to pay a fine. Finally she jaywalked back to the car and made an illegal u-turn in the middle of the block.

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Maj. Gen. Albert D. Sheppard of Doniphan was reappointed Missouri adjutant general by Gov. James T. Blair yesterday. He has served seven years in the job.

John A. Williams, Pacific Democrat, was reappointed to the State Tax Commission for a second six-year term.

NG Cuts May Cost Missouri 7,000 Men

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Army plans to cut the National Guard could cost Missouri 80 units with about 7,000 men, Maj. Gen. A.D. Sheppard, state adjutant general, said today.

If the 35th Infantry Division is one of those eliminated under the Army plans, Sheppard said, Missouri would lose 80 units of company and detachment size—most of them rifle companies. If the 35th Division is kept and non-divisional units are cut 30 percent, then the loss would be 34 company size units or about 2,000 men.

Sheppard said it was apparent the Army has paid little attention to a resolution of the House Armed Services Committee calling for the National Guard to be retained at a strength of 400,000 men.

He noted that the Missouri units being threatened by the Army's plans are located in all sections of the state and some of them, in existence 50 years and more, have distinguished records of wartime and community service.

"The National Guard is in full agreement with the Army's desire to modernize its military forces through reorganization," Sheppard said. "We insist that this reorganization can be effected without wholesale elimination of units which are a vital part of the nation's trained reserve force. This wholesale elimination is a write-off of millions of dollars invested over the years in the training of these units, as well as the armories and other construction necessary for this training."

Gov. James T. Blair appeared before the House committee several weeks ago to protest the proposed cuts. The topic also is expected to come up at the National Governors' Conference in May.

At Smith-Cotton

Dramatics Festival Concludes With Two-Play Presentations

The 31st Pettis County Dramatics Festival will conclude tonight with the presentation of two plays, one by the Tanglehook Extension Club, a 20-minute comedy, "Two Old Maids and a Tub" and one by the Smith-Cotton Community, "The Forgotten Man," at the Smith-Cotton High School starting at 7:30 o'clock.

These plays will be judged along with the four presented Monday night and the winning play of the festival announced when the judging is completed.

Four excellent plays were presented by 4-H Clubs Monday night. The first, "Where's That Report Card?" (by Roger Clark), was given by the Quisenberry Club and directed by Mrs. Cloyce Wilson and Miss Glenda Rhoads.

It was the scene in a home where there were three teenage children who had been warned by their father, played by Larry Wilson, that they would have no dates unless they had good grades. Father raged and blamed the mother, played by Glenda Rhoads, because he could not find the report cards that came in the mail. The two daughters, Helen played

GOP Holds Final Rally At Hubbard

Haller Conducts Question, Answer Period After Talk

City Republicans met in a closing campaign rally at Hubbard School Monday night. Clarence Mitchell, committeeman from the Second ward, presided. The Rev. George Ray offered the invocation.

After a few preliminary remarks Mitchell presented Aaron Haller, candidate for mayor, who summed up the issues and principles on which Republican candidates had conducted their campaign. He especially commended the candidates for aldermen for the forthrightness and ability with which they discussed these issues. He further stated that people could see from the vigorous and outspoken campaign of these candidates that they would not be a "rubber stamp" for any man, that the way they spoke out for their principles were comparable to the dedication to purpose of the party's great President, Abraham Lincoln, as he started his political career in a town even smaller than Sedalia.

Haller then conducted a question and answer session, asking if the people felt they received their share of street improvements, if they felt they are entitled to have a published detailed financial statement of what and to whom tax money is spent, and if they are willing to finance campaign headquarters for Mayor Bagby through the use of the water company office equipment and employees' time?

There was a resounding "No" to each.

Haller continued that he wished to call to the taxpayers attention the fact that Bagby has not offered an explanation to the flagrant misuse of the city water office. "Why? Because he wants you to forget it," Haller said. He is hoping we will drop the issue and that he will not have to answer to you for the act. This is an issue we mean to see into more following election, regardless of who is elected.

"Once more I want to remind you that our candidates are all successful in the operation of a business of their own. They know the value of thousands of dollars and how to get the most out of it."

Baruch Against Tax Cut

Financier Informs Congress This Is No Time to Embark On Pump-Priming Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch told Congress today that in the face of a tremendous national debt and expenditure, it is folly to talk tax reductions.

The 87-year-old financier also contended this is not the time to embark on vast federal works or other pump-priming programs requiring deficit financing.

Baruch gave his opinions to a Congress teeming with tax reduction and public works schemes. His appearance before the Senate Finance Committee marked a resumption of hearings, begun last year, into the nation's financial condition.

The hearings centered on the problems of inflation in a booming economy when they started last summer. They resume in an entirely different economic atmosphere, although prices remain at peak levels.

But Baruch told the committee in prepared testimony that inflation is the most important fact of the time—the single greatest peril to economic health.

"We are now suffering a hang-over after a long inflationary binge," he said. "This recession is the inevitable aftermath of a period of inflation that could at least have been mitigated if not prevented."

He said that tax cuts and large public works programs financed by red-ink spending would add to the inflation.

"I like taxes no more than the next man," Baruch said, "but there are worse burdens. It is infinitely cheaper to preserve peace than to fight a war."

Further, he asserted, "I am dubious about the purchasing power a tax cut will generate." "The value of any conjectured purchasing power is outweighed," he said, "by the jeopardy in which a tax cut will place all the programs supported by taxes—from national defense to welfare assistance."

"A tax cut will increase the deficit, add to the debt, and further weaken the government's credit. To reduce revenues before our defenses are secure and our country is at war."

As to public works, Baruch said if people want dams and highways and new schools and other projects, "We should be prepared to pay for them."

Low Pressure Brings Rain Into Missouri

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A low pressure area pushed across the Western Plains and brought scattered thundershowers into western Missouri today.

Another system of thundershowers, somewhat weaker, moved from Oklahoma across the Ozarks in southern Missouri.

The result was partly cloudy skies over all of western Missouri and a forecast that this condition will spread across the state and continue through today, tonight and Wednesday. Northern Missouri may get scattered showers today and tonight.

Junior had a straight "E" card. Father fainted.

The second play, by Striped College 4-H Club, was a 30-minute farce comedy, "Along Came Harriet" (By LeRoma Rose), directed by Mrs. Denzil Fischer and Mrs. Hubert Finley. This was in the college dormitory, where Margaret Bohon as Doris Gaylord had been having a gay time while her roommate, Betty "Mousey" Wilson, played by Sandra Hilburn, did her lessons and took her abuse. Her two friends were Arlene, played by Sharon Fischer, and Barbara, played by Judy Hopkins, and then along came Harriet, tomboyish, rowdy. Harriet, sister of Betty, who had been raised by an old maid aunt while Betty was raised in a school. Harriet changed the personality of her "mousey" sister and, afraid her parents, who were coming, would find out about the fine clothes she had bought, Doris made her change clothes with her, even to giving her her glasses. So, dressed up prettily, Betty, who was to fix things up with the football star

Some Testimony Heard

Sickness Interrupts Varner First Degree Murder Trial

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The illness of a juror interrupted the first degree murder trial of Victor I. (Tex) Varner temporarily today in Cole County Circuit Court.

Andrew Strope, 55, of St. Thomas was helped out of the courtroom and a doctor was called while the court recessed. A 13th juror was picked as an alternate yesterday and the trial could go ahead if Strope is unable to continue on the jury.

He became ill after two highway patrolmen testified Varner told them he was having fence cutting trouble with Eddie Boyesen long before the riding ranch operator and his teenage helper were ambushed and killed at Lake Ozark State Park last summer.

Trooper L. P. Rolls of Eldon said Varner complained to him about his fence troubles a year before the killings.

"You know as well as I do," Rolls quoted Varner as saying, "if I ever catch him you can call Louie Phillips (an Eldon undertaker) because I won't need you."

On cross examination Rolls conceded that Varner did not name the man he suspected of bothering his fences.

Sgt. J. E. Seely said Varner called him to his riding stables a year before the double slaying and told him Boyesen had been cutting his fences and throwing up barbed wire entanglements on his riding trails.

Seely was the third witness on the second day of Varner's first degree murder trial, being heard by an all-male jury before Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair.

Seely testified that he told the dapper 50-year-old Varner that if he were Varner he would lie in wait and try to catch Boyesen. "You don't know how many times I have laid out there," Seely quoted Varner as replying.

May Operate Legally Until Friday Night

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton ruled today Missouri's special legislative session may operate legally for 61 days — until midnight Friday night.

Rep. Warren E. Hearnes (D) of Mississippi County, majority floor leader in the House, raised the question. He asked for an early opinion so the legislative leaders could make their plans for final adjournment.

Priority

It sprinkled a little, and there were plenty of clouds, but the voters kept turning out. Sometimes the weather must stand aside.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 47 and 55 at 1 p.m. Low Monday night was 43. Rainfall .03 inch.

The temperature one year ago today, high 68, low 49; two years ago, high 70, low 50; and three years ago, high 82, low 54, with .03 inch of rain.

Defends Right Of Citizenship

High Court Says Removal Would Be Cruel Punishment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wartime desertion from the armed services may not be punished by deprivation of U.S. citizenship, says the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Warren, writing the main opinion in yesterday's 5-4 ruling, declared such denaturalization violates the constitution's ban on cruel and unusual punishment.

Warren called it "punishment more primitive than torture," and said civilized nations were in virtual unanimity that "statelessness is not to be imposed as punishment for crime."

The ruling, one of three dealing with citizenship, struck down a 1940 law which permitted denaturalization of servicemen convicted by military trial of desertion. Justices Frankfurter, Burton, Clark and Harlan dissented.

In another denaturalization case, the court upheld the power of Congress to enact legislation revoking the citizenship of Americans—either native born or naturalized—who vote in foreign political elections.

The high court, in a third nationality case, ruled 7-2 the government must prove by "clear, convincing and unequivocal evidence" that an American served voluntarily in a foreign army if he is to be denaturalized.

Warren, for the majority, said such proof had not been procured in the case of Mitsugi Nishikawa, who was born in Artesia, Calif., and served in the Japanese army from March 1941 to August 1945.

In another 5-4 decision, the court re-armed lower federal courts with increased authority to compel obedience to their orders by punishing summarily for criminal contempt.

The court acted in affirming three year sentences imposed on Communist leaders Gilbert Green and Henry Winston for contempt. The contempt sentences were pronounced in Federal District Court in New York after the pair went into hiding for almost five years after being sentenced with other top Communist leaders to five years in prison on Smith Act convictions.

In the majority opinion, Justice Harlan called their contempt "a most egregious one."

Queen Fails to Get Margaret's Promise To Not See Townsend

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Sketch said today that Queen Elizabeth has failed to get Princess Margaret to promise never to see Peter Townsend again.

Quoting friends of the 27-year-old Margaret, the tabloid said she is willing to agree there will be no more meetings for the present.

This explains two long private interviews between the Queen and her sister over the weekend, the Sketch said. The sisters were together at the royal lodge in Windsor, the Queen's country home about 25 miles from London.

City Election May Bring Record Vote

Early Turnout Has Signs of New Total For Sedalia Contest

The campaign of the past month for the Sedalia city election has proved a real "warm-up" for the voters. For the first time in years the local judges have been given an early "swamp" of vote casters.

The three-cornered mayor's race between Mayor Julian H. Bagby, Democrat, Aaron W. Haller, Republican, and Abe Silverman, Citizens ticket, has created more interest in the election than any city election held here in many years.

Predictions are, from the early unofficial reports, that the voting was so heavy at an early hour that when the polls close at 7 o'clock tonight there will have been cast in the neighborhood of 9,000 or more votes. This, if true, will be a record vote for any city election in Sedalia.

The last record-breaker was in the campaign of 1954, when Herb Studer, Republican, upset the election by being the only Republican elected to office. Studer's campaign resulted in a vote of 8,466. In this election, Studer defeated Wilbert Askew 4,552 to 3,914 a majority of 638. This was an indication of party lines being broken to vote for the head of the Republican ticket.

In the campaign of 1954, the vote took a slight slump, dropping to a total of 7,041. In this city general election, Mayor Bagby was running against Dr. John Lamy and he received 4,139 to 2,903, for a majority of 1,255 votes.

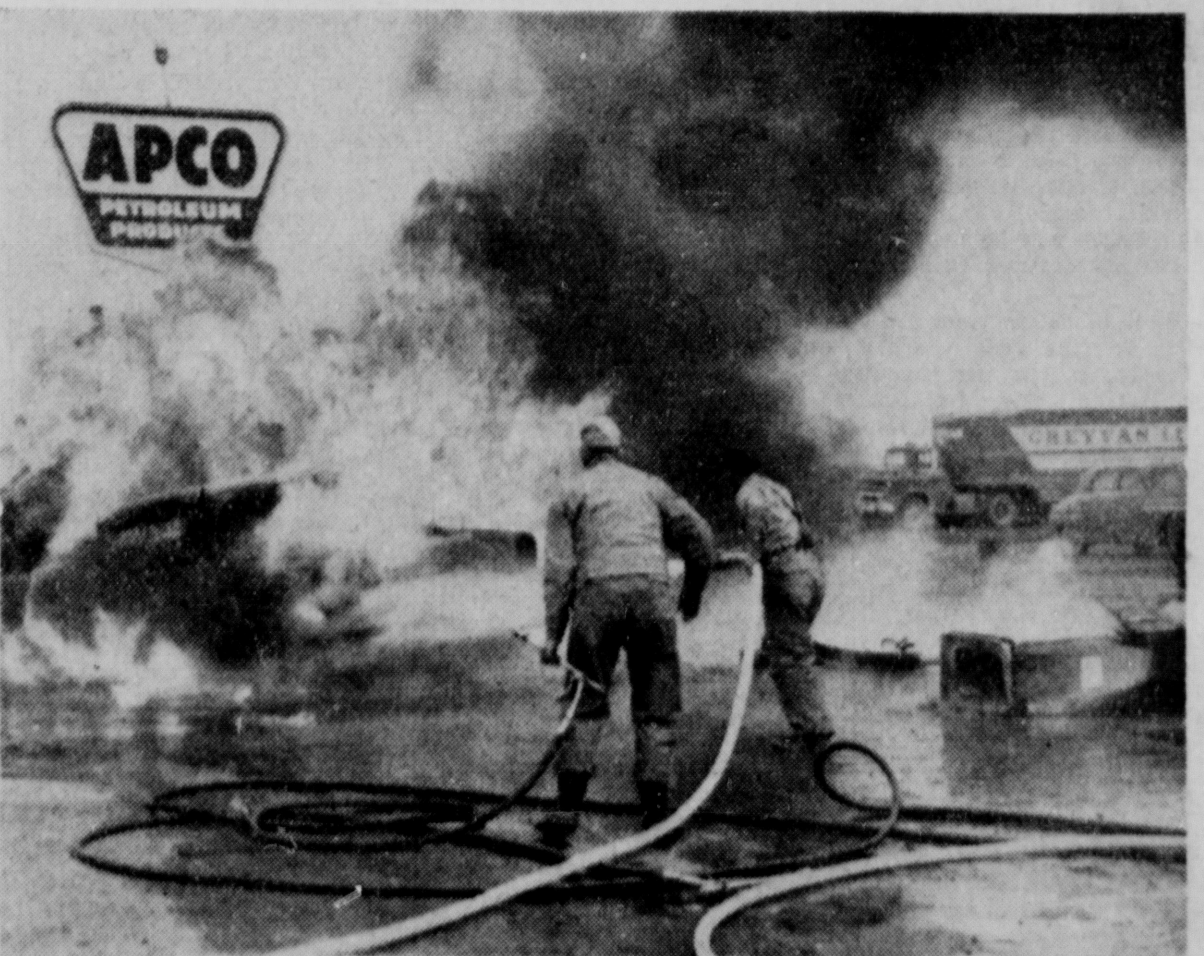

With a three-way split in the voting for the heads of the tickets, political observers had predicted "anything can happen."

At the noon hour, all three camps were laying claim to leads, but with the information in the polls supposedly remaining secret, the outcome will not be known until after 7 o'clock and especially after the votes have been counted.

Farmers May Apply For More Soil Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has instructed its local offices to accept applications from farmers on waiting lists to retire about 5,800,000 additional acres of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and tobacco land under the soil bank program.

Closeup View of Sunday Fire

BIG BLAZE—This graphic picture of the automobile accident and fire at Main and Highway 50 Sunday afternoon was taken by a passing Smith-Cotton student, Richard Deason, 18, of 1422 South Beacon, moments after the mishap occurred. The completely engulfed car at left belonged to Mrs. Mary Evans, Kansas City. It raced into Bill's A-CO Service Station when she sought to avoid a collision on the highway. The car knocked down gasoline pumps, one of which may be seen lying on the ground at the right. Two members of the Pettis County fire department man hoses as they buck the intense heat to get as close as possible. Three occupants of the car were pulled to safety before the fire enveloped it. Deason, who works as a laboratory processor at Lechner's part-time, came on the scene by chance and snapped this excellent picture.

these dollars. Let us have a business administration, 'under the eagle eye' of successful business men."

Ralph Hamlin, candidate for the chief of police, was the next speaker. He also gave a brief resume of his policies which said he will exert every effort to put into practice, stressing the merit system as the Number One need in maintaining a high caliber police force.

The next speaker was Paul Hausam, candidate for alderman of the first ward, who pointed out the issues of previous speeches and went on to say that in spite of the challenge of the Republican candidates, Bagby made no effort to clarify any specific financial point and that he just keeps quoting lump sum figures, saying that they are the source of the city improvement program, always talking in generalities.

"Neither does Mr. Bagby come forward," Hausam said, "and give our local doctors credit for the money they are so generously contributing to the improvement of Bothwell Hospital. He continues to give himself credit for it."

Hausam said that Bagby keeps referring to four years of accomplishments, while some of the enumerated items in "The Sedalia Story" date back to earlier in the 12 out of 16 years of his office tenure.

Leroy Luchs, candidate for alderman from the second ward, was also vigorous in his criticism of Bagby for what he termed the disregard Bagby has for the taxpayer in the fact he resorts to double-talk, apparently feeling the public is unaware of it.

"Regardless of the outcome on election day, we will not end our inquiry into the issues raised in this campaign."

Clyde Safford, candidate for alderman from the third ward and Harold Vogel, candidate for alderman from the third ward, were presented and stated that they concurred fully in the issues as stated by the other candidates.

Mitchell then presented the remaining three candidates, Maj. Drean, candidate for city magistrate, Mrs. Fred G. Rose, candidate for city treasurer, and Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, candidate for city assessor and Ed Kehde, Republican nominee for member of the school board. Kehde reminded everyone to vote for the school levy, which is the same as last year.

Earl Crawford, Sedalia attorney and the next speaker, began by saying "Mr. Bagby offers no denial of the alleged use of the water company office for the dissemination of political propaganda by mail to taxpayers. The total silence of Mr. Bagby on this issue under existing circumstances would seem to be an admission of guilt."

"When the present election is over taxpayers should in no uncertain terms demand a complete investigation of the political use of public property and any other inquiry they feel pertinent. The taxpayers should demand an ordinance making it a criminal offense for the use of any city property for the dissemination of political propaganda."

Crawford also suggested that in view of this alleged action on the part of the mayor that the employees of the water company be put under merit system so that their jobs will not become political football, and so the employees will not be under pressure from any political party in power in the City Hall.

Crawford referred to the advertising in Monday's Sedalia Democrat urging people to vote Democratic Tuesday because "your present tax rate has not been increased; that it is the same as in 1947."

He said, "The tax rate has not been raised, but your taxes are higher. Why? How was it done? It was done by the simple process of increased valuation of your property. As your 1947 valuation was $2000, then by simply increasing your valuation to $4000 at the same rate, thus your taxes are now doubled without a tax rate increase. That is why all of us are paying more taxes."

Miss Hazel Palmer was the closing speaker, pointing out what she described as the unduly appearance of the city from the lack of proper street cleaning. She further stated that under Republican administrations there were street sweepers which were used nightly and that they made periodical trips out over the paved streets in the residential area. In referring to street improvements, she emphasized that most street improvements are at the expense of the taxpayer and not a part of the city expense budget.

Miss Palmer stated that in her extensive travels she finds cities the size of Sedalia getting many industries, that there is a great movement of industry from the east and New England to the central United States, and that it is deplorable the city does not attract more of this industry.

She asked "Why do we have to sell our city, which has so many natural assets? It is because the practices of the present administration are known by industry and they avoid our city."

Miss Palmer expressed approval of the Republican campaign, saying that taxpayers had a right to the information which she said has been withheld from them.

The benediction was given by Rev. Ray.

Lawrence Kerr, Clarence Mitchell, committeemen, and Mrs. Evelyn Cox and Mrs. Sebelia Ray, committeewomen, were hosts and served refreshments.

Police Reports
Three youths stole the 1956 Oldsmobile Holiday Coupe of Morris F. McCown, 634 East Broadway about 7:27 p. m. Monday. The car was later returned and parked in front of the owner's home at 10:20 p. m. and the three ran down the street.

A large hole in the street at 27th and Lafayette was reported to the police at 7:45 p. m. Monday. The foreman of the street and alley department was notified.

Police received a call of someone in a corn field at 28th and Ohio at 9:17 p. m. Monday. He was gone when the police arrived.

A south window at the Jockey Club was found unlocked by the police at 5:15 a. m. The owner was notified and locked the window.

Mark Twain School was broken into sometime Monday night or early Tuesday morning by thieves, who stole four 5-pound packages of hamburger, ten pounds of butter in one-pound packages. The butter was that of Government surplus which is given to the public schools for lunch rooms, and is marked "not to be sold or exchanged".

Entrance was gained by punching a hole in a screen and lifting a window on the north side of the school building.

Miss Dolly Jones, 404 West Fifth, reported to the police that two posts which had been set in concrete Monday were pulled out of the soft concrete Monday night and stolen. They were 2 by 4 posts.

Lovell Farris, owner of the Friendly Tavern on West Main, reported to the police that an attempt was made to enter his place sometime early Tuesday. A screen door at the rear of the building had been removed and taken by the thieves. Entrance to the business was not gained.

Police Reports
The Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H Club, presented a 30-minute comedy, "Listen, Dad" (by Donald Payton), in which Bobby Sox, played by Wanda Williams, heard her sister, Margie, played by Cathy DeBord, tell her girl friend, Josephine, whom she called Jo, that she would pack her suitcase and meet her at the bus station, for a weekend trip. So Bobby Sox told her father, played by Larry Callis, that Margie was eloping with her boy friend, Joe, played by Jim Martin. When it finally soaked in on father he was enraged and paced the floor, called in his neighbor, Joe's father, played by John Lowell Fitzgerald, and they went outside to fight it out. When they came in again they were both a mess, clothes half torn off of them and dirty. The argument was still going on.

"Take off your glasses and fight," said Margie's father. "I don't wear glasses," replied Joe's father.

Margie's father looked — Joe's father had on his glasses, and he had on Joe's father's hat.

But everything was straightened out with Bobby Sox confessing, and she and Judy, Joe's sister, were allowed to go to the football game with Joe and Margie. Mrs. Hanna, mother of Margie, who tried to make peace in the two families and did, was played by Sherry Nagel. This play was directed by Mrs. Raymond Nagel and Mrs. Edwin Williams.

The Flat Creek 4-H Club presented a 30-minute comedy, "Kid Sister" (by William Devan) William Allen, 17, played by Bill Ball, was in love with a gold digger, much to the disgust of his 12-year-old kid sister, Peg, played by Betty Welliver, and his friend, Joe Henderson, played by Don Welliver, both of whom wanted him to date his old girl friend, Lillian.

He was all set for a big date with the other girl, going to have his father's car, going to rent a tuxedo, got two weeks allowance and borrowed a little besides, but when he couldn't get the tux and the car, was going to borrow Joe's old rattletrap car, and wear his sport clothes, the date was off. But the kid sister, who was very typical in her part, knew what would happen, so she called Lillian and asked her to call back in a few minutes. She did, just after the other girl turned him down, and he told Lillian he would pick her up in ten minutes. The mother was played by Patti Ball. This play was directed by Anna Mae Welliver and Jane Wadleigh.

Mrs. Lewis Hammond, Jr., presided, and before the first play a pantomime was given by Earl Hawkins of Beaman Arator 4-H Club with a solo, "My Task", by Larry Callis, accompanied by Julie Killion, Hughesville 4-H.

Following the second play a reading was given by Harold Williams of Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H Club and two songs by three little girls, Margaret Knight, Kay Brownfield and Betty Vogt, the first song being "The Place That I Worship", and the second one, which they sang to a boy who seemed to have been trifling on them and looked like he was in trouble about it, "I Can Get Along Without You Now." They were accompanied by Mrs. Warner Vogt. This was from the R-1 Club.

After the third play special numbers were a piano solo by Bill Claycomb, Longwood 4-H Club and an accordion solo by Sheila Linville, Striped College 4-H Club. All of the special numbers were really good entertainment and received lots of applause.

The plays Monday night were attended by about 400 people.

Fires In the City

Two pumpers from the Sedalia Fire Department answered a call to the Thomas Pastry Shop, 112 West Fifth, where a blaze was reported raging in the basement. The fire was reported by Mrs. Evelyn Smith, who noticed the blaze from the first floor where she was working at the time.

Firemen found the bake oven on fire, and quickly brought it under control with hand extinguishers. John Thomas, owner of the shop, was out of town and no estimate of damages was made at the time.

A run by the Sedalia Fire Department at 9:52 p. m. Monday to 912 West Fifth was caused by a burning car, belonging to Paul J. Vannatta, 992 West Fifth. The fire was caused by a backfire and was slightly damaged.

The Sedalia Fire Department was called to Broadway and Beacon streets at 6:40 p. m. Monday where a car was reported burning. The car belonged to W. C. Boyd, Springfield, and was slightly damaged. The fire was started by a backfire.

New Library Service For Benton County

The plan for demonstration library and bookmobile service to Benton County has been officially approved by the Missouri Library Commission. Official notice has been received from Paxton P. Price, state librarian, that the project has been approved by the U. S. Office of Education under the Federal Library Services Act. Miss Jane Younger, librarian of the Boonslick Regional Library, has been notified that funds for the project are available, and the service in Benton County has already begun, the first trip being made Friday, March 21.

Following is the schedule. The bookmobile will service the schools in the following communities, and adults will be served from the bookmobile at the time listed on the schedule. Books from the Boonslick Regional Library will be made available to the citizens of Warsaw through the library at Warsaw.

April 4, Unit 1: Fordney, 9 a. m.; Poplar, 10:30 a. m.; Feaster, 11:30 a. m.; Edmondson, 1 p. m.; and Dillon, 2 p. m.

April 7, Unit 1: Fairfield, 9 a. m.; Shiloh, 9:30 a. m.; Freedom, 10:30 a. m.; Hogle's Creek, 11:30 a. m.; and R-10, 2 p. m.

April 7, Unit 2, Warsaw Schools, 9 a. m.

The demonstration library service is a cooperative project by which the services of the Boonslick Regional Library are to be made available to Benton County for a trial period. The Missouri State Library will supervise the project, which will be financed from state and federal funds as provided under the Library Services Act passed by Congress in 1956. An advisory committee of Benton County citizens is assisting in planning and publicizing the service. The members of this committee were elected at a meeting of over 63 citizens of Benton County representing all communities and organizations of the county. This meeting was held at the Lincoln High School auditorium on Feb. 18. The members of the committee selected at this meeting are: Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mrs. Amos Estes, Mrs. Eugene Bibb, Mrs. N. W. Brown, Mrs. Louis Smart, Mrs. Robert Kullman, and John Owen.

The Boonslick Regional Library bookmobile will have books and materials for both adults and children. It will stop at Benton County schools and lend books and materials for use by school children to supplement the books owned by the schools. During the summer months the bookmobile will stop at various places in the county to serve adults and children. The Boonslick Regional Library is making available all its various library services, including books, films, filmstrips, and records. This library has a total book collection of 45,000 volumes, a large number of which will be available to all citizens of Benton County. The ultimate objective of this cooperative library project is to establish permanent county-wide library service for Benton County through affiliation with the Boonslick Regional Library, which serves citizens of Cooper and Pettis Counties. The citizens of these counties support this library service by a one-mill tax levy voted by the people in 1953.

School Bus Driver Sentenced for DWI
IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A school bus driver must serve six months in the Lawrence County jail and pay a fine of $500 and costs. He pleaded guilty in nearby Chesapeake Mayor's Court last night to driving the bus, with 25 youngsters aboard, while intoxicated.

The state highway patrol arrested the driver, James W. McConnell, 53.

Patrolmen said an unidentified man, eventually picked up by McConnell, was driving when they stopped the bus. He was not held. They said the children apparently escaped from the slow-moving bus through windows and emergency exits.

Walch Heads Protective Group Again

Harry W. Walch was re-elected president of Sedalia Post "F" Travelers Protective Association of America at the annual meeting of the association Saturday evening. The business meeting followed a dinner and was held at Bothwell Hotel.

Also re-elected to serve during the year beginning April 1, were Leo Eickhoff, chairman of the board, Bernard Stanfield, first vice-president, James Atkinson, second vice-president, E. O. Pasley, third vice-president, and Herbert Seifert, secretary-treasurer. John Snodgrass was elected chaplain, a new office of the local post.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were: Leon Archias, Jr., Maurice Hogan, William Hopkins, P. A. Sillers and K. U. Love.

President Walch reported that 13 new members had been secured during the month of March and the local post now has in excess of 425 members. He requested that board members and officers help to increase the membership to 500 by April next year.

The president announced the state TPA meeting would be held in Joplin on May 9-10. Delegates elected to attend were Harry Walch, Leo Eickhoff, Herbert Seifert, William Hopkins, John Snodgrass and James Atkinson. Alternates chosen were Bernard Stanfield and E. O. Pasley.

Lincoln Concert Group Appears At Hubbard High

The Lincoln University Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. O. Anderson Fuller, appeared before a large appreciative audience at Hubbard School Friday evening.

The first presentations of the concert quickly convinced the audience that they were going to hear a truly unusual program of choral music.

The choir gave an example of high quality of musicianship, sincerity of interpretation, and brilliance in performance. The voices were excellent, the tone quality unusually lovely and balance was evenly and smoothly maintained.

From the curtain raiser, "Elizah" by Mendelssohn, to the finale "KdeSu Kravy Moje", a Slovak folk song, the program was well received.

After the concert, Dr. Fuller stated the enthusiasm of the audience warranted a return of the choir to Sedalia next year.

Youth In Welfare State

According to a recent Gallup Poll, 56 per cent of Great Britain's young people — those between 21 and 34 years — would like to leave their native isles and settle in another corner of the globe. The first four preferred countries of emigration, in order, are Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the United States.

Other surveys made in late years have produced a comparable result. And some students have conducted exhaustive inquiries as to why England's youth — those on whom her future depends — should wish to forever leave their homeland in overwhelming numbers.

Naturally, the reasons are many and varied. But one of the big ones is found in England's welfare state. Government controls are rigorous, and along with them has come a crushing burden of taxation. Opportunity for most young people is limited to the extreme. The heavy hand of an entrenched, rule-bound bureaucracy is felt everywhere. The principal basic industries are still nationalized, and even the major privately-owned enterprises are dominated by government.

Under such circumstances, it is natural that the young people should be discontented and rebellious. They feel that they are ciphers, with little or no chance to get ahead, to make the most of their energies and abilities, to lead useful, productive and satisfying lives. This is always a fruit of the super-state, no matter what particular philosophy it is grounded in.

Senator's Mail Must Go Through

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The public doesn't know it, but Postmaster General Summerfield has an interesting way of treating certain pet senators regarding the delivery of mail. A secret order has just been revealed regarding the delivery of the Baltimore Sun to Sen. Glenn Beall, Maryland Republican.

Like a lot of other people in these days when Mr. Summerfield has slowed down their mail delivery, Senator Beall squawked. But, unlike other people, he got results. Senator Beall likes to have his Baltimore Sun delivered so he can read it early. And when it didn't arrive regularly and promptly, the Post Office Department issued an order officially titled, "Delay of Baltimore Sun to Senator Glenn Beall of Maryland."

The secret post office order specifies that the specially labeled Baltimore Sun is to be put in the official pouch at 3:05 a.m. and is to be delivered at 5:15 a.m. tied to a package of first class letter mail. If it misses this mail, it is then to be delivered by special delivery messenger, a charge for which the average taxpayer pays 30 cents.

A "Daily watch" is even to be posted to keep an eye open for the senator's morning newspaper.

If you don't believe the lengths to which Mr. Summerfield will go to please a senator, here is the secret text of the order:

"A serious complaint has been received from the office of Senator Beall of Maryland relative to the many delayed deliveries of his copies of the state edition of the Baltimore Sun."

"The Baltimore post office has arranged to place this single-wrapped brown paper, yellow-labeled copy in the official pouch due at 3:05 a.m. D.S.T. A daily watch until further notice will be maintained for this paper and the watch must be continued each day until the paper is found. If it is in time for the 5:15 a.m. dispatch, it must be tied to a package of letter mail. If received after that time, it will be turned over to the special delivery section for immediate delivery."

Good reading, senator! We wish we could get even our first class mail with equal regularity.

NOTE: Senator Beall has been enjoying this privilege for almost three years. It began Aug. 7, 1955 and was recently renewed Jan. 7, 1958.

Expensive TV Loans
FCC-commissioners have tried to brush off the "loans" of color TV sets from the Radio Corporation of America, but a close scrutiny of secret congressional reports indicates that these sets ran into quite a bit of money. The average citizen would sure appreciate a similar loan for his parlor.

The records show that on Jan. 3, 1957, RCA sent through "purchase order No. OS-949" for seven 21-inch color TV receivers "part of total price of $9,844.90." These went to the seven Federal Communications Commissioners.

Approximately two months later, Feb. 27, 1957, RCA Service Company sent through invoice "No. 23-923028 to Radio Corporation of America covering monthly preventative maintenance service, for Jan. 1, 1957 to Dec. 31, 1957 — total amount $8,583.90."

In other words, the cost and service of the color TV sets for the FCC commissioners ran to $18,000 and right off the bat.

Later, on April 11, 1957, RCA sent through "requisition No. OS-204 ordering 10 models at total amount of $5,662.93," to "replace sets at the following locations: Bartley, MacZon-noughy, Dorfer, Hyde, Lee, Mack." Though RCA mispelled McConaughy's and Doerfer's names, this referred to six of the commissioners.

On the same date another order was put through replacing RCA color TV sets for the commissioners.

A succession of orders flowed from RCA every couple of months to make sure that the commissioners all had color TV sets of the latest type and in perfect order. The list of FCC personnel shows that all the commissioners had both color and black-and-white sets, while Commissioner Lee was especially favored with a hi-fidelity set in addition. Ex-commissioner Mack got both a color receiver and black-and-white receiver, a hi-fidelity and a phonograph.

Dictator Nasser of Egypt is now boasting

Guest Editorial

CHICAGO TRIBUNE: Eating Like A King. Egypt's ex-King Farouk ate six dozen frog legs in Monte Carlo the other day and told the restaurateur that he had eaten "like a king." Farouk is in a position to know, having been a king and having done more than his share of eating. This is the first time that a King—even an unemployed one—has enlightened us on just what it means to eat like a king.

We must confess to some surprise, as we had never associated Farouk's figure with a diet of frog legs. Of course, it makes quite a difference whether the ground rules call for six dozen legs of frogs or the legs of six dozen frogs, but the question is academic. Eating like a king has already lost its appeal for us.

that he has Saudi Arabia in his hip pocket with only two kings to go — King Faisal of Iraq and King Hussein of Jordan. Then his rule of the Arab states will be complete. . . It was a year and a half ago that John Foster Dulles and Ike rescued Nasser when he was cringing in a bombproof shelter in the suburbs of Cairo with the tough little Israeli Army a few miles from the Suez Canal and the British and French bombarding Port Said. Nasser is now showing his gratitude. . . there were two reasons for King Saud's virtual abdication: 1. Fear of his life; 2. his tangled finances. . . There had been two attempts on King Saud's life last year, one he suspected was engineered by his brother. Two weeks ago Saud was barricaded in his own palace at Riyadh, but even so was fearful of assassination. . . One reason he veered toward the U.S.A. and away from Nasser about a year ago was the fact that American agents secured evidence that Nasser was plotting his assassination. . . Prince Faisal, who is now in the saddle, used the battle cry that Saud was a Cadillac playboy indulging in air-conditioned palaces while the country went bankrupt. Faisal's first move will be to demand more royalties from the Arabian-American Oil Company. They will protest but probably increase the ante — especially since both Japan and Italy have recently offered 75 per cent instead of 50 per cent of the take to other Arab countries.

Think It Through

—By E. F. Hutton

WE SUPPOSE—The legitimate function of taxation is to raise revenue to support necessary Government but not to destroy society, nor the people who support Government.

Heavy, progressive Federal income and State taxes are at the breaking point.

Karl Marx proposed present taxes a hundred years ago, not to support government, but to promote Socialism. They are destroying the freedom of the venturesome and valorous spirit of our Risk Capital System (profit or loss). They discourage the incentive to work, save and invest in productive enterprises. After that, Government will subsidize business, agriculture, transportation, foreign trade, etc. Then what have we? Socialism! That means the end of freedom — the closing chapter of the Constitutional Direction of Our Way of Life.

Today, we have 66 million people at work. The Free Enterprise System provides their jobs. The job holders are headed for Governmental control of their jobs. When one works for the Government, holidays, benefits and shorter hours are out—just like one blows out a candle. Ask a Russian!

Ted Williams signed up for 135 grand—baseball's top pay. He's 38 and approaching the end of his career. After paying taxes, what's he got left? The tax on 100,000 $'s is 67,320 $'s, and on every dollar over 100 grand, the Government collects 89 per cent, leaving Ted 11 cents per $.

If Ted didn't love baseball, he'd quit.

An Economic Hero

There are lots of ways to buck a trend. Some people try to do it with talk. Some dig in and work against the current. Now and then somebody dares to toss his own dollars into the effort to turn things around.

Businessmen who try to reverse an economic downspin by investing heavily in new plants and equipment are an admirable but an old story. Not too often does an employer attempt to up-end the business indexes by putting more cash directly into the consumer's pocket.

That's what Samuel Schiff, a trade journal publisher in Detroit, is doing. For four weeks, he's handing each of his 14 employees an extra $5 in his paycheck. He calls it "confidence spending money."

He feels everybody's holding back from spending because of lack of confidence. He thinks that's foolish, and he wants his little bonuses spent as soon as they're received.

One man standing out against a trend is quite a sight. If and when the national business curves swing upward, we ought to remember Samuel Schiff and his personal assault on the 1958 recession.

Thought For Today

And as they were going down to the end of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Bid the servant pass on before us, (and he passed on) but send thou still a while, that I may show the word of God. — 1 Samuel 9:27.

The grand old Book of God still stands, and, this old earth, the more its leaves are turned over and pondered, the more it will sustain and illustrate the sacred word.—James Dwight Dana.

The World Today

Next Few Months Good for Khrushchev

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — These next few months are a good time for Nikita Khrushchev—the new one-man boss of the Soviet Union—to produce sensations which might range from space flights to startling maneuvers in world affairs.

The first sensation has already occurred. The Soviet Union announced yesterday — when there was worldwide agitation for such a move—that it would voluntarily ban nuclear weapons tests.

This could have been done last week—there were rumors it was coming — before Khrushchev had been made premier in place of Nikolai Bulganin. The latter had been only a front man for Khrushchev anyway.

That the announcement was delayed until Khrushchev became full boss, in name as well as in fact, would indicate he attached importance to the timing; after he became premier.

Time means a lot to Khrushchev because it's running out on him: he's 54. He has taken on himself, singlehandedly, the future of Soviet communism and the progress of communism everywhere.

Any blame for things gone wrong hereafter will be his alone. Now sensational Soviet scientific achievements would solidify his position at home—giving him the kind of Soviet devotion and spirit he needs for internal success—and enormously increase his prestige and influence abroad.

Bold diplomatic strokes—particularly in the direction of peace—not only would give communism a terrific and persuasive propaganda value but perhaps throw him into the position of world leadership among men, if not among nations.

At this moment for various reasons the United States, which has leadership of the Western world, at least, is rocking along stodgily and unimaginatively, nursing the status quo, taking one propaganda beating after another from the U.S.S.R.

Stalin, last Soviet one-man boss, had far more time than Khrushchev to rivet down his leadership indisputably. He was 45 when he took over at Lenin's death in 1924.

It took him at least a decade after that — through one-by-one elimination of his rivals and finally through mass purges—to give him the absolute control he wanted to shape the Soviet future.

But Khrushchev several years ago—by his public repudiation of Stalin's bloody tactics—put himself in the position of a man who will have to depend on achievement rather than on bloody violence for success.

So far, he's followed that line. He's eliminated his rivals simply by shoving them into back seats.

If things got tough for him, or if those rivals whom he thrust into the shadows tried to gang up on him, he might feel it necessary to out-Stalin Stalin. There's no reason yet to think he'll try that.

Since therefore, it would seem, he will have to depend on achievement and time is running out on him at his age, it's likely he will try a bold and imaginative road. He's shown plenty of boldness and imagination already.

Let's be truthful. You didn't expect him to spell the word right, did you?

Now I've a little piece of information for you. Asked what they most need to study lessons, children of all ages have said "Quiet."

We do not give quiet to a child when we fill the room where he is trying to learn his lessons with our agitated expectations that he'll fail to get them. We give him noise and clamor.

If he is only eight years old, we disturb him badly, for he's still pretty uncertain of his competence. As we sit beside him anxiously demanding proof of it, we add the burden of our uncertainty to his. Under these circumstances, he'll begin to wriggle and twist.

The truth is, he wants to take flight from our suspicious, discouraging presence.

Secretly, we want to run away from him too.

That is because we cannot love a child whose success we feel obliged to guarantee.

We can only fear him as the person who may let us down. If we don't reject the impossible obligation we've assumed, we'll begin to dislike him. We'll start expecting him to fail because we really wish him to fail.

This is a natural wish—the inevitable result of our exhausting task. Our dislike of the child is really just our dislike of the obligation to make him a success. Our wish for his failure is our healthy protest against the unhealthy obligation.

Russians Don't Believe It

U. S. Peace, Prosperity Still Can Be Made Compatible

By Joseph A. Dear
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Misery and suffering at home are not the only problems raised by the current recession.

Our diplomacy is on the spot, too. The very fact that the cutback last summer in the rate of defense spending was a recession-triggering factor has proved extremely embarrassing. For the Russians all along have been claiming that the economy of the capitalistic and democratic West is geared to war.

The Russians, in short, insist that peace and prosperity are incompatible under our form of government. To reinforce their argument, they can point to the recessions of 1949 and 1953, which also were preceded by cutbacks in the rate of defense spending.

We have an adequate answer, of course. But its effectiveness is diminished by the chaos that occasionally seems to afflict our collective thinking. Or, to put it the other way around, we speak with so many voices that sometimes we give the appearance of not thinking at all.

A substantial body of opinion pretends that all economic activity by the government is inherently evil. If only the government left business alone, if only the government spent less, then everything would be hunky.

But the government has a positive role to play. What it does, or doesn't do, has an impact on the economy. It can be argued that the federal government and business have enjoyed an agreeable partnership through most of our national history.

For example, it was a partnership arrangement between business and government that brought about the transcontinental railroad network. The government supplied almost all the technical talent, from the Corps of Army Engineers, and land.

The fact that recent recessions have thrice followed cutbacks in the rate of defense spending doesn't prove that peace and prosperity are incompatible. But it does suggest that government spending programs of some sort are beneficial to the economy. School construction programs might suffice, to mention just one example.

A substantial body of opinion also holds to the view that the federal government is much more likely to make mistakes than private industry. That could be, but by the government is inherently

Dr. Jordan Says

Virus-Caused Hepatitis Is Elusive Disease of Liver

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Interest in the disease variously known as viral hepatitis, infectious hepatitis, or epidemic hepatitis continues unabated.

This is a disease, the principal characteristic of which is the invasion of the body with a virus attacking the liver.

Two kinds are known: serum hepatitis, which is acquired by inoculation of contaminated blood or its products containing what is called hepatitis virus B; and infectious hepatitis, probably acquired by direct contact and caused by what is called hepatitis virus A.

The symptoms and signs of these two viral diseases are alike to a considerable degree. Which is responsible may be determined by blood testing.

The onset of infectious hepatitis may be gradual with loss of appetite often the only first symptom. Diagnosis is frequently difficult.

It is during the early phase, or incubation period, of the disease that it is most contagious to others. Consequently, contacts should usually receive injections of a substance known as immune serum globulin which may prevent the disorder.

In the usual simple case of infectious hepatitis, with or without jaundice, diet and rest are the most important features of treatment. The patient must take plenty of liquids. Alcohol in any form is taboo.

The outlook for recovery from infectious hepatitis is generally good. Recovery, however, frequently takes a long time and occasionally there are those who develop serious signs of insufficiency of the liver, or in whom the disease runs a particularly long course.

In either case special care and treatment are in order. Nevertheless the average victim of the disease requires little special treatment, but must recognize that it is long lasting and that return to activity should be gradual.

It seems likely that infectious hepatitis is not a new disease, although the name is of comparatively recent origin. Probably in the past it was often called catarrhal jaundice, and doubtless many patients who suffered from it recovered completely without a diagnosis ever having been made.

There are many points of interest in connection with this disease and, of course, we do not know all we want to know about it.

Sometimes the question arises as to whether a person can develop infectious hepatitis from a dog who has a disease called by the same name. Dog infectious hepatitis is caused by a different virus which is apparently not dangerous to human beings. Consequently there is no danger on this score.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The Holy Week sermons of Christ predicted great suffering for those who decided to follow Him. However, the Lord promised that this hardship would have its reward in salvation. "He that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved."

Many who are trying to follow God's will find that they have to endure many unexpected hardships and a great deal of personal suffering which seems too great to bear. Occasionally God's children question His omniscience. They cannot conceive of God permitting His own to be so mistreated without apparent justification.

The Master's message is still our greatest comfort. If we endure steadfast in our faith and service we shall dwell with Him in Eternity. This is one of the foremost hopes of the Holy Week experience.

President Abraham Lincoln issued the proclamation that established Thanksgiving as a national religious festival in 1863.

Young Mark Was A Furtive Witness During Jesus' Arrest at Gethsemane

EDITOR'S NOTE: The world has heard much about the principals of the Easter story: Christ Himself, Pilate, Judas, the high priests. But also involved in the great event were obscure persons, mentioned by the Gospels only in passing. This is the first of four articles on some of these minor actors, drawn by apparent happenstance into the Easter drama.

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The youth pulled a linen wrap about his shoulders and dashed out of the house. He must find them. They probably had gone to their usual place, to the olive press across the valley, to Gethsemane.

JOHN MARK

He latched the courtyard gate behind him, and struck out at a fast trot down the street.

The hour was past midnight. Most of Jerusalem lay in darkness. But high on the city's farther side, rows of yellow lanterns ringed the Temple porches, crowning the eastern hill with fire. It was the Passover season, time of festival.

The young man cut through open squares, taking the shortest route, plunging three steps at a time down the occasional stone stairs descending eastward into the lower city.

Some urgent motive had driven him to quit his home in the third watch of night, and go in search of Jesus and his little band. No one is certain exactly what caused him to go, but go he did, and fast, hastily dressed.

John Mark, the gospel writer, was a lad in his teens when Jesus made His final entrance into Jerusalem in the spring month of Nissan, about 29 A. D.

This had been, at first, a jubilant occasion for the friends of Jesus, and Mark's family was among them. They had streamed out through Benjamin Gate to meet Him, strewing the road with flowers and palm branches.

"Hosanna!" they had shouted. "Blessed be He who comes in the name of the Lord."

Jealous Undercurrent
But amid the adoring fervor were also the muffled sneers, the jealous scowls of the religious rulers. "The world is gone after Him," they said bitterly, wagging their heads.

In the week following, Mark had watched and listened as the tides of destiny whipped about the Master. Mark did not grasp it fully then, but he later would record it, in all its stark implacability.

The reigning Sadducees, who controlled the powerful priesthood, sent agents to harass Jesus, to interrupt His teachings with deceptive questions. But He flung back stunning rejoinders.

He strode into the Temple, and drove out the money changers with their bags of shekels and denarii. This is a "house of prayer," He declared. "But you have made it a den of robbers!" Dreadful rumors passed from mouth to mouth that the authorities were bent on destroying Him. Yet, admiring crowds flocked about Him daily, and the bare-cheated Temple guards hung back, tight-jawed, muttering. With only a day remaining before the Passover, Jesus and His apostles had come to the upper room to share a festive meal. The spacious, hospitable house of Mark's mother, Mary, was a regular meeting place of the apostles, and most appropriate place for the supper.

Mark had not been present in the room, but the voices, along with the piquant odors of roast lamb and spices, drifted down into the dark court outside. Something Jesus said — if Mark heard it aright — jolted him. "Truly, one of you will betray Me." A hush, then the hurt responses, "Is it I? ... Is it I?" It sounded incredible, alarming. Mark stared hard at the lighted doorway above.

Judas Departs
Shadows of moving figures reached from within, playing on the treetops. In a moment, someone emerged, hurrying down the outside steps. It was one of the 12, Judas Iscariot, of Kerioth He seemed in great haste.

The supper continued. Astonishing sayings floated from the doorway. "Take, eat, this is My body." Then, later, "Drink ... this is My blood ... poured out for many." Mark froze. He could hardly believe his ears.

After a time, they sang the hallel, and then, with a scuffling of feet, came filing out the door, and down the stairs. Mark stayed out of sight. They stood a while under the trees.

"It is expedient for you that I go away," Jesus told them. "... A little while, and you will see Me no more. ... You will weep and lament. ... But your sorrow shall be turned into joy. ... In the world you will have tribulation, but be of good cheer: I have overcome the world."

Then they left, strolling, slowly.

their conversation fading into the night. Mark furtively went inside to bed.

Hours later, however, something happened to send the young man flying across the city toward the Mount of Olives. Why did he go?

Was it simply a compelling desire to be with Jesus? Was it some intuitive impulse, set off by Judas' actions? Or did the Roman legionnaires and priests first raid Mark's house to make the arrest?

This would have been logical, since Judas left Jesus there. At least, with the unusual activity at the Roman garrison and with troops moving across the city, it is likely word reached Jesus' supporters, including Mark's household, and someone was set to warn Him.

So the night streets echoed with the youth's running footsteps. He went out through an eastern city gate, and down into the valley of Kidron, thick with pilgrim tents. Arrived Too Late

He pounded across the little bridge, breathing hard now, and started up the mountain, dodging through olive trees and brush. Limbs creased his cheeks, and stones bruised his bare feet as he fought up the incline.

Then as he neared the walled garden of the olive press, he heard the metal clank of armor and saw the leaping lights of torches. He was too late. Scared dismayed, he crept forward in the darkness. Then he came upon the scene. He crouched in a thicket, panting.

The white-robed Jesus stood there in a little clearing. His face tired and strained, as the torch-lights fell on Him. A knot of priests shuffled forward.

It was a confusing, frightening tableau — the kiss of Judas, branches snapping as the Roman troops approached, the darting lights and shadows, the Apostle Peter swinging a sword, a scream, then Peter and the other apostles scattering, fleeing, and Jesus' steady words of irony.

"Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to capture Me? Day after day, I was with you in the Temple teaching, and you did not seize Me." He paused. "But let the Scripture be fulfilled."

Two soldiers grabbed His arms, twisting them behind Him. Then they tied His hands, looped the rope several times around His body and knotted it, leaving a length of rope to lead Him away.

"And a certain young man followed Him, with nothing but a linen cloth about his body." Mark set down this incident years later. No other Gospel sources knew about it, for the apostles had run away. But Mark knew, because it must have been he.

As he related, the soldiers spied him trailing along behind the bound Jesus and tried to seize him, grasping his garment. But he squirmed out of his skimpy dress. "He left the linen cloth and ran away naked."

Holy Week Services At St. Paul's Church

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will conduct Holy Week services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday. The time of both services will be 7:30 p.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated in these services.

The members of last Sunday's confirmation class will receive their first communion on Maundy Thursday. Sermon topics in these two services will be, "Concerned About Deserting Disciples," on Maundy Thursday, and "Crucified, Dead and Buried," on Good Friday.

About Town

Mrs. Ethel Orr, 302 West Third, still confined to her home after a car accident March 21, was visited Sunday by her son, Hubert Orr, and family, Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richards, Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stockton and baby, Karen Sue, Sedalia.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, sticky taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Church Services Are Being Held Each Day

The California Ministerial Alliance will sponsor several activities during the observance of Holy Week, March 31 through April 6.

Every day during Holy Week the Alliance plans to have the "Time For Personal Meditation" during the noon hour. From 12 to 1:30 p.m. each day except Friday 12 to 1 p.m. There will be Bibles, bulletins with suggested Scripture reading and an interpretation of some of the painting of the last week in the life of Christ. These services will be held at the Methodist Church. Then on Good Friday April 4, the Ministerial Alliance will conduct a Good Friday Worship Service for one hour, 1 to 2 p.m. and this service will be held at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. E. L. Koch, pastor of the United Church of Christ will be the speaker. The other members of the Alliance will also participate in the service.

The Easter Sunrise Service will be held at the Fairgrounds beginning at 6 a.m. Rev. C. E. Harmon, minister of the Assembly of God Church, will be the speaker at the Sunrise service. In case of rain the Sunrise Service will be held at the United Church of Christ.

9 reasons why

the Daily Newspaper gives you more for your advertising dollar

1. Newspaper advertising reaches more people than any other medium. 88% of the nation's families get a newspaper every day. Over 100 million people, 82% of all people 12 years of age and over, read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these people has the opportunity to see every ad in the daily newspaper. Only a small number of these people could be reached with any TV, radio or magazine ad.
2. People like advertising in newspapers better than in any other medium. People feel friendly toward advertising in newspapers. Surveys show that far fewer people want advertising in other media. An advertiser wants his customers to like him, so it stands to reason he will benefit if he runs his ads where they please instead of annoy people.
3. Newspapers deliver more "ready to buy" prospects than any other medium. Newspapers offer something for everybody—information, entertainment, editorials, advertising. And the reader is attracted to the ad that interests him. This means that readership ratings on ads represent live prospects for the advertiser. These people are easy to sell because they have a product interest. On the other hand broadcast ratings indicate people with an interest in the program, not necessarily a buying interest in the product.
4. Newspaper advertising gets more action than any other medium. As a news medium, the daily newspaper gives advertising an atmosphere of action and believability. People have confidence in and believe in newspapers. This prompts action on the part of the reader.
5. Newspaper advertising offers more local selling flexibility than any other medium. Advertisers can use newspapers market-by-market—to protect strong markets, to bolster weak markets, to vary advertising where potential varies, to meet competitive attacks, to get better timing
6. Newspapers give more flexibility in selling copy than any other medium. An advertiser can tell his story in the size that suits his needs. He can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed copy story, or he can tell his story in the same or smaller space with just a few words. He can run a 100-line or a 1,000-line ad, depending on his budget and strategy. A newspaper offers advertisers more physical and creative flexibility than any other medium.
7. Newspaper advertising offers better retail merchandising than any other advertising. Four million U. S. retailers invest about 2½ billion dollars in the daily newspaper—more than they spend in all other media combined. No other medium has as close a relationship with retailers as the daily newspaper.
8. Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment than advertising in any other medium. In some media a good percentage of the results are affected by the variables of the medium, and by the medium's own competition. In newspapers, the advertising stands on its own feet, unaffected by such variables. Newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and pleasure of the consumer. The daily newspaper is always selling.
9. Newspaper advertising produces more sales per dollar of advertising cost than do other media. The cost of an advertising medium depends on a combination of two things: First, how much it costs to reach a person with a sales story. Second, what action that sales story causes the person to take—or, how much it costs to make a sale. The best figures available indicate that the newspaper delivers a message to a person for a typical advertiser at a cost at least as low as the cost of delivering the message through television or magazines. And the other eight points guarantee more sales action per message delivered.

Local Cagers Make All-State Teams

Group Picked By Sportsmen

Includes Smithton, Tipton, Blackburn School Scorers

The 1958 Missouri All-State High School Basketball Teams, selected by members of the Missouri State Sports-writers and Sportscasters Association, include Junior Monsees of Smithton, Jerry Hartman of Tipton, Clifton Baile of Warrensburg, Everett Rehkop of Blackburn, George Hulet of Columbia and Kent Brown of Hannibal—all familiar to Sedalia area cage fans.

Monsees, Smithton's great 6-foot-3 center was named to the All-State Class S squad. During the season, Monsees led the Tigers to the semi-finals of the sub-state tournament with exceptional play. Monsees, with terrific spring in his legs, continually outjumped opponents who were two and three inches taller.

A remarkable faker, the Smithton ace averaged 19.5 points a game and also topped the club's rebounding. His deft touch on tip-ins resulted in many points.

Hartman and Baile landed berths on the All-State Class M squad. Hartman was the bright spot in an otherwise medium season for the Tipton Cardinals. He parlayed a soft jump shot into 514 points for a 21.3 average and was primarily responsible for the Cardinals' 13-11 season mark. He hit a .740 average from the free throw line. Baile, a three year first stringer for Coach Clarence Whiteman's Warrensburg College High Colts, scored 410 points during the season for an 18.6 average.

Everett Rehkop was noted as one of the top scoring threats in Central Missouri. He averaged 21.9 points for 28 games with a .592 total for the season. In a game against Nelson he chipped in 50 points and despite frequent "double teaming" he managed to maintain a steady assault on the hoop.

Brown and Hulet performed on the Smith-Cotton court during the season as members of the two top teams in the Central Missouri Conference. Brown, the hot-shot of the Hannibal Pirates attack, was the leading vote collector in the Northeast district — and was acclaimed the greatest shooter in Hannibal history. The 6 foot 2 forward averaged 30.8 points a game with a deadly one-handed jump shot out of the corners.

Hulet, Columbia's 6-foot-1 scoring ace, led the Kewpies to a 28-2 mark for the season, scoring at a 17.2 points per game clip with 516 for the season. In three years of varsity play Hulet tallied 1,180 points — breaking four 43-year-old school records. Hulet's best shot is a rifle-like jumper from about 20 feet out.

Area players getting all-state honorable mention from the Sports-writers and Sportscasters were:

Class M — Don Reed, Eldon; Don Flippin, California; Jerry Ragland, Cole Camp; Paul Holsten, Concordia.

Class S — Jim Edmundson of Green Ridge; Bob Clemons, Malta Bend.

Miserable Maas Action Plagues 'A' Training

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — The most disquieting thing in Kansas City's training camp is the miserable spring performance of pitcher Duke Maas.

Maas was obtained during the off-season from Detroit as part of a multi-player trade, and the Athletics management had counted on him to head the A's pitching staff.

But Maas has allowed 35 hits and 16 runs in 23 1-3 innings during training. The 27-year-old right-hander, who had a 10-14 record with Detroit last season, gained credit for Kansas City's 5-4 victory over the Tigers yesterday. Still, he allowed 11 hits and 4 runs and walked 5 in 6 2-3 innings.

Ray Herbert, who's had several trials with Detroit and Kansas City, blanked the Tigers for two innings to preserve the A's triumph.

Celtics Head For St. Louis Playoff

BOSTON — The Boston Celtics headed for St. Louis today and the third game of their best-of-seven basketball final playoff series with the Hawks which is tied at one victory apiece.

The contest will be played in St. Louis tomorrow night with a fourth game logged for Saturday night.

"We've got our work cut out for us," Boston Coach Red Auerbach said before departing. The defending world champions had to come back for a 136-112 triumph Sunday after dropping the first decision at home, 104-102.

Japanese Pro Defies Reason In Golf Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Tradition is that the hotshot in practice is usually the tournament bust, but don't bet on it in the case of Torakichi (Pete) Nakamura, the watch-chamber golfer from Japan.

Pete defies all reason. He has the 2nd Augusta National, where the 2nd Masters Tournament opens Thursday, buzzing as it has seldom buzzed before.

On his first trip around the par 72 layout yesterday, Pete shot a 69. He played the back nine in 31, five under par.

This came as no great surprise to Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Australia's Peter Thomson and South Africa's Gary Player, who were among the victims last October when Nakamura and his partner, Koichi Ono, won the Canada Cup by nine strokes.

But hardened Masters gallery-ites had to be shown. So they followed Nakamura and Ono on another nine holes. On the 170-yard fourth, Pete took out a three-wood club and made a hole-in-one. Even players such as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson raising their eyebrows and asked, "Is that so?"

SPete was obviously embarrassed when players and spectators swarmed around asking details.

"It was nothing, just luck," he said. "The wind—it helped."

Pete can hardly hit the ball out of his shadow but around the greens he is deadly. He sinks 30 and 40-foot putts as if it were just a part of the game.

A reporter asked Pete if he thought he could win the Masters. "No hope," Pete said. "All big men out there; giants. . . I too small. They hit ball 100 yards farther."

No foreigner has ever won the Masters, but the outside threat this year is the strongest since the tournament began in 1934.

Cards April Fooled By Chicago Pitchers

TAMPA, Fla. — It was one day early but the St. Louis Cardinals were April fooled by Chicago White Sox pitchers yesterday.

Billy Pierce gave up just one hit in seven innings as Chicago won 7-0. That was a dribbling single by Wally Moon, Jim Wilson finished up for the Sox, allowing no hits.

Vinegar Bend Mizell's pitching was the Cardinals' best and he gave up four hits and two runs and issued five bases on balls in six innings.

Manager Fred Hutchinson laid the poor pitching performance partly to lack of activity from inclement weather.

At this point it looks like the four Cardinal starters will be Mizell, Sam Jones, Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel. Newcomers Bob Mabe, Frank Barnes and Lynn Lovenguth and holdovers Billy Muffett and Von McDaniel are candidates for the No. 5 spot.

Lane's Deals Get Bigger As Time Passes

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Fearless Frank Lane, whose player deals are like a fisherman's lies—they get bigger as time passes, is up to the five-man size today after ending his long pursuit of Larry Doby with a swap that brought the veteran outfielder back where he started.

Doby, 33, who spent his first nine years of major league ball with Cleveland, returned to the Indians last night after a two-year absence. The deal with Baltimore also added pitcher Don Ferrarese to Lane's rebuilding program while sending outfielders Gene Woodling and Dick Williams and pitcher Bud Daley to the Orioles.

Since taking charge of the Indians, Lane has dealt with all but two of the American League clubs in swaps involving 19 players. Only the Kansas City Athletics and New York Yankees haven't done business with him.

The Florida camps have been busy issuing bulletins on injuries. The Boston Red Sox were struck twice. Right-hander Tom Brewer suffered a hairline finger fracture when struck on his pitching hand during batting practice. Heywood Sullivan suffered a fractured finger when struck by a foul tip in an exhibition game with Washington. Catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees suffered an injury to his right hand from a foul tip during a game with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Berra's injury isn't too serious, but Sullivan may be out six weeks, Brewer three.

The Red Sox won their eighth straight, scoring 8-3 over the Senators. Gene Stephens, a stand-in for ailing Ted Williams, was 3-for-4, one a home run, and drove in a pair. Pete Runnels, late of the Senators, had four singles in five trips for the Red Sox.

Four unearned runs, three on a boot by outfielder Norm Siebern, gave the Dodgers a 7-3 victory over the Yankees. Randy Jackson smacked a homer for the Dodgers.

Dave Hillman became the first pitcher to go nine innings for the Chicago Cubs and breezed with a three-hitter for a 1-0 victory over Baltimore.

Preston Ward, taking over first for the injured Vic Wertz, was 2-for-5 and drove in three runs for Cleveland in an 8-2 romp over San Francisco. Herb Score started and went five for the first time this spring, fanning six while giving up three hits and other Giant runs.

Billy Pierce and Jim Wilson blanked the St. Louis Cardinals on one hit as the White Sox won 7-0 in the first of a double-header.

The Cards then belted Wilson in the nightcap and took a 7-5 victory in a six-inning contest.

Ed Bailey's double in the ninth gave Cincinnati a 2-1 victory over Philadelphia and Robin Roberts. A home run by Frank Thomas, an error, sacrifice and Hank Foiles single meant two ninth-inning runs for Pittsburgh and a 4-3 decision over Milwaukee and Bob Buhl. Clutch relief by Ray Herbert saved a 5-4 Kansas City victory over Detroit.

WILMINGTON, N.C. — Hustling Howie Johnson had the feel of his first big golf tournament money—and he liked it.

The 32-year-old Glenwood, Ill., pro beat one of his best friends on the tour, Arnold Palmer, in an 18-hole playoff for top money of $2,000 in the Azalea Open tournament yesterday. Johnson's 77, five over par, was good enough to win by one stroke.

Thus, in less than three hours, Johnson made more than he had in three months previously this year.

Going into the playoff Johnson was 44th on this year's official money list with $1,578 in earnings. Palmer, who won the $1,500 runner-up prize, brought his year's earnings to $6,600.

A year ago to the day Palmer had won the Azalea tournament with a 282 score, the same total which he and Johnson tied for top honors Sunday. Last year Johnson shot 298, 16 shots behind Palmer, out of the money and down in a tie for 36th place.

CINCINNATI — When Mrs. Roberta Winbush was sentenced to a 21-day workhouse term last week for stealing children's clothes, she left her oldest daughter, Sharon in charge of the rest of the family.

The family had been on relief, but there was food and other needs in the house.

Sharon coolly started a routine of cooking, cleaning, diaper-changing and close supervision of her six younger brothers and sisters, ages 2 months to 8 years.

But welfare workers, after an anonymous telephone call, stopped in at the home and, after a quick appraisal, packed all seven off to the city's Allen House.

JERSEY BOUNCE—Elmer George of Speedway, Ind., bounces back off the fence in the 13th lap of the 100-mile feature at the Trenton, N.J., International Speedway. He was unhurt but was forced to retire from the race because of damage to his vehicle. Buzz Barton (86) of Tampa, Fla., gives George a wide berth as he passes the careening racer. (AP Wirephoto)

May Cancels O'Shanter Golf Tourney

CHICAGO — George S. May, who has distributed nearly two million dollars in golf purses in the past 17 years, has canceled the Tam O'Shanter World Tournament—richest in the game's history.

May's action, announced last night in a letter to the Professional Golfers Assn., wiped out the 1958 prize list worth $210,000. Other tournaments held in conjunction with the World were also canceled.

May said financial disagreement with the PGA, particularly over the organization's demand for entry fees, was the reason.

"We are taking this action because we are being deprived of revenue — entry fees — which we sorely need to keep on presenting the world's richest golf tournament," said May in a letter to J. Edwin Carter, tournament bureau manager of the PGA.

May said last year "our entry fees totaled $22,115" and pointed out that the PGA this year is not collecting entry fees from numerous tournaments, including the Los Angeles Open, the National Open, the Masters, the Houston Tournament and the Dallas Open.

"None of these purses are over $50,000," he said. "Why should we have to pay a heavy penalty because we have been the world's richest golf tournament?"

In Atlanta, Harold Sargent, National PGA president, said May's decision came as "a great surprise." Sargent said he had received no official notice from May and would have no extended comment until he had conferred with other PGA officials.

May said according to the contracts sent him by the PGA it would "cost me about $40,000 more this year than it did last. That includes a small increase in prizes and the plan whereby the tournament's top ten players of the previous year are given appearance guarantees for $4,000, which I repeatedly have not agreed to and never will."

Blair Gullion Quits Washington U. Post

ST. LOUIS — Blair Gullion, athletic director at Washington University here since 1947, has resigned.

He will continue to teach physical education and coach Washington's basketball team.

Harry C. Burrus Jr., assistant football coach, succeeds Gullion as athletic director.

Gullion helped shape athletic de-emphasis at Washington and Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley said the policy of not giving athletic scholarships or other subsidies will continue.

Featherweight Title at Stake In Tuesday Bout

LOS ANGELES — The world featherweight championship and fierce national pride will be at stake tonight when champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey goes against Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno for 15 rounds or less at Wrigley Field.

Bassey, the 25-year-old champion from Nigeria, West Africa, remained a 2-1 favorite. It is his first defense as king of the 126-pounders.

Promoter Cal Eaton predicted a crowd of 20,000 or more, with a gate of $200,000.

Moreno, 21-year-old knockout sensation from Mexico City, has the backing of thousands of his countrymen who have come North for the fight. He also has two unusually large fists.

The Bassey camp was calmly confident of victory.

The belligerent tone from the Moreno forces was set by Pajarito.

Bassey goes into the scrap with 20 straight victories and an overall record of 61 fights, 50 wins, 17 by knock-out, 10 losses, 1 draw. He said he owes it to his supporters at home to win.

Moreno in his 33 matches has never won except by a knockout. He has lost two, one via a knock-out, and was held to a draw in another.

Begins Drive In Salvation Army Effort

The Salvation Army began an intensive spiritual campaign, "Christ - The Answer," on Palm Sunday at the local corps, Capt. M. A. Weber, commanding officer, announced today.

Capt. Weber said that the corps will join more than 325 other corps and divisions throughout the Central Territory in conducting the six-week campaign. The 11 states comprising the territory are Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The "call to arms" was issued by Commissioner Claude E. Bates, central territorial commander, from his Chicago headquarters. He asked Salvationists everywhere to "prepare for an all-out effort to win souls with the great remedy for all the world's ills - 'Christ - The Answer'."

Among the objectives planned throughout the territory are intensive one-week visitation drives in which soldiers will canvass their corps areas, a week of open air meetings, special evangelistic services, and organized prayer meetings in the homes of Salvationists.

During Holy Week will be observed the annual "Week of Self-Denial and Prayer." During this period contributions are raised for the Army's missionary work, and officers and soldiers turn in the funds they have saved by abstaining from some "luxury" during the Lenten season.

Beginning Easter Sunday a week of special meetings will be held with Sr. Capt. and Mrs. G. S. Clift, retired officers from West Plains, Mo., as the evangelists. A sunrise service will be held at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday, followed by the sunrise breakfast, open air meeting at 9 a.m., Sunday School at 10 a.m. and the morning service, Sr. Capt. Clift will be speaking on the subject, "What Shall I Do with Jesus?" The Young People's meeting will be held at 6 p.m. open air meeting at 7:30 p.m., at which time he

Offers April Fool Candy for Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Speros, owner of a candy shop, offered a variety of April Fool candy for sale today - creamy chocolates with such centers as garlic cloves, baby onions and Limburger cheese. He packed an extra pound of the cheese centers for a regular annual customers who fooled Speros for several years.

"I thought he was a big-time prankster," Speros said, "until I found out last year he loves the stuff."

speaking on the subject, "What Shall I Do with Jesus?" The Young People's meeting will be held at 6 p.m. open air meeting at 7 p.m. and the evening service at 7:30 p.m., at which time he will speak on "To Whom Shall We Go?"

Services will be held each night following at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend all of these services. There will be special music, singing and an old time Gospel message each evening.

Reuther Takes Profit-Sharing Plan to Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther takes his profit-sharing demand to Chrysler Corp. today, putting 1958 labor contract talks in full swing at the Big Three car makers.

The United Auto Workers chief opened negotiations yesterday at Ford Motor Co. He presented his demands to General Motors Corp. a week ago today.

The negotiators have 60 days to reach settlements before current contracts run out about June 1. By agreement, the talks at each company will proceed under a news blackout that can be canceled on 24 hours notice. The GM talks are in recess until April 8. Reuther turned the bargaining at Ford today over to Ken Bannon, director of the UAW's Ford Department. Bannon said, "We're in the process of presenting our program." He indicated that it would take several days before the talks were recessed to permit the company to study the demands.

Reuther formally opened the Ford talks by shaking hands with Ford Vice President John S. Bugas across the conference table.

A few minutes before, Bugas declined to tell newsmen what he thought of the UAW's profit-sharing plan in advance of bargaining. He said, "We'll wait and see it." Reuther is demanding that the big auto companies divide up profits in excess of 10 per cent of net capital before taxes.

Washington University Band Presents Program

By BILL HEISS

The regular senior high assembly usually held on Wednesday morning was changed this week so that the senior high could hear the Washington University Band from St. Louis. In the band was a former student of Smith-Cotton, Miss Willis Ann Rosenthal, who played in the quintet which presented a special number. The concert band was enjoyed by both students and faculty.

The Future Homemakers of America held a candy sale in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria during both lunch periods last Tuesday. On sale were candy, popcorn balls, and cookies, all made by members of the Future Homemakers.

The National Forensic League held a business meeting after school March 25. During this meeting they discussed the state forensic meet to be held in the future.

The Senior Student Council is getting organized to sponsor the Senior Student Council banquet. The exact date has not yet been decided upon, although the committee is working hard to prepare the details. The committee consists of Sharon Vedder, Dick Sklar, Dick Woodsmall, Larry Wahler, Rita Napier, Myrna Miller, Dorothy Goode and Marilyn Goldman.

Also it will soon be election time at Smith-Cotton with the battle for next year's Junior and Senior Student Council presidents. The Junior High will have four candidates to choose from, Linda Ream, Dale Herrick, Jerry Ray and Don Hausman. The Senior High students will choose between Gary Christian and Patty Schreiner. April 7 will be the big day for the campaign speeches, with the first election on April 15 and the final decision on April 22.

This past week a representative from Myrtle's Beauty College was in the guidance office this past week to talk to seniors interested in this field of work.

Janice Ratje, Delta Reine, Linda Dickerson, Caroline Staley, Carolee Shirley, Alice Lee Vogel, Sandra Williams, Gloria Rouchka, Bannita Kay Evans, Helen Kinder, Glena Stewart, Tressia Knapp, Patty Huffman, Virginia Hilton, and Sandra Winebrenner helped Saturday in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce in selling Easter Seals for the 1958 drive in the downtown district. The girls certainly deserve a hand for this work.

The Latin Club held a banquet March 28 at 6:30 p.m. in the Smith-Cotton cafeteria. The evening started with the Lord's Prayer done by Esko Ollila and was followed by an introduction by the club's president Dick Sklar. Dinner was then served. During the dinner Susan Schien and Carolyn Nave played violin duets for the group. After dinner there was a series

Engineer Presumed Killed in Landslide

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A state engineer was presumed killed by a huge landslide that tumbled down on the spot where another hit four days earlier.

Victor O. Sheff, district engineer for the State Division of Highways was directing workers yesterday at the site of the old slide. He was believed buried under 100 feet of earth. An estimated 600,000 tons of rock and earth collapsed from the 300-foot-high Palisade onto the Pacific Coast Highway near Santa Monica. Operators of heavy equipment fled for their lives as the avalanche tossed bulldozers around like toys.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT—Sedalia, Mo., Tuesday, April 1, 1958 7

Cop May Be Paid For Saving Girl's Life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The issue of paying Police Sgt. William J. Keays a $50 reward for saving a drowning girl's life reached an impasse last night.

After prolonged debate, the Board of Supervisors approved the reward payment by a 6-3 vote.

But Controller Harry Ross declared he wouldn't write out a check for the reward because Keays performed his lifesaving deed in the Russian River, about 60 miles north of San Francisco's limits.

"All right," said Board President Francis McCarty. "The city or the policeman can sue the controller."

Latest Easter Creations
Modeled at D. of I. Social

A social meeting of the Sedalia Circle, 310, Daughters of Isabella, was held Wednesday, March 26, in the form of a style show of the latest Easter creations, modeled by members of the entertainment committee for March.

Madam Canary from France (Mrs. George Freese) was attired in a light blue chiffon chemise dress (one she had worn in 1927) with white accessories. Her white hat, a training seat with duck head reflector, was trimmed with ribbons and a large red rose surrounded by smaller sprays of flowers.

Miss Holland (Mrs. Don Brown) wore a dark pink skirt with the new shorter hem, a flowered pink boxy blouse edged in a wide red band at the hip line. Her light tan hat was inspired by Holland's most popular flowers in vivid shades. She wore three strands of beads, yellow, white and green which hung below the hem of her skirt.

Miss Hamburg of Germany (Mrs. Minnie Clifford) chose a peach lacy chemise dress with accessories ranging from pale pink to the deepest shades of red. Her white slip peeked gracefully beneath her moderately short skirt. She wore black short gloves.

Miss Boston (Mrs. John L. Riley) wore an original creation from Glamour Magazine of the gunny sack dress, trimmed in a large green plaid bow in the back, one to match for her hair, white beads and a gardenia corsage. She wore brown shoes and carried a black purse. This will be a favorite at the National Convention in Boston during August as the texture of the material should prove to be very cool and resist wrinkles.

The Little Lost Girl, ten years old, (Mrs. Peter Stohr) had to be led in because of her bashfulness but she captured the audience with the recitation of a short poem. She wore a flowered full skirt, white blouse and anklets, red flat heeled slippers, and carried a dark blue purse. Her straw hat was scattered with various colored flowers.

Miss Ireland (Mrs. R. C. Smallwood) was attired in a sage green chemise dress with a blue and white daisy corsage. She wore black shoes, long white gloves, and carried a black purse. Her navy blue hat was trimmed in flowers both large and small.

Miss Airlines (Mrs. Frank Rouchka) modeled a dress chosen for her recent trip to Florida, dark blue flowered chemise with scoop neckline and tiny sleeves. Her hat, a small tan cloche, was adorned with a miniature version of the airplane she had traveled there in. It was held in place with a white net tied beneath the chin. She wore red, white and blue argyle socks and black sweater pumps.

Miss Oldsmobile (Mrs. L. C. Saenz) wore a black and white tweed slim skirt, white blouse and stole, black old-fashioned high lace shoes, purple gloves and carried a green purse. Her light blue taffeta picture hat was held in place with matching net tied beneath the chin and was trimmed in beautiful red flowers.

Miss Sedalia (Mrs. Charles Sebek) chose another original gunny sack dress (this inspired by Vogue Magazine). A wide pleated red and white checked taffeta collar framed her sweet face and a large matching bow hung at the back of her skirt. Her black velvet cloche hat was trimmed in a large pink flowered nylon bow.

A prize for the costume judged to be the best went to Mrs. Frank Rouchka.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing games, followed by refreshments.

April Fool's Day Set Aside for Nitwits

LOS ANGELES (AP)—April Fool's Day is a day set aside not for wits but for nitwits, says Dr. Herman Harvey.

Dr. Harvey, a psychology professor at the University of California,

California, says it's the day of "the annual outing for untalented, infirm and indigent humorists."

The day is perpetuated, he says, "by and for people who can't maintain an adequate standard of quality for good intellectual wit" and "is the one day they are allowed to indulge themselves in what they think is funny and be assured that no one will criticize them for their abysmal efforts."

Ohio's combined school lunch and school milk programs used 159,245,942 half-pints of milk in the two-year period of 1955-1957.

"Christian" first was applied to followers of Jesus Christ in Antioch, scene of Paul's first ministry.

Conservatives Win Canadian
Big Majority

TORONTO (AP)—Canada was amazed today by Prime Minister's triumph, which shattered the opposition in Parliament and placed his Conservative party in complete command with the biggest majority in history.

Yesterday's general election—the country's second in 10 months—gave the Conservatives 209 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons.

The election made history in these other ways:

It reduced the once powerful Liberal party to 47 seats, the smallest number ever. It had 106 before the election.

It sent the leader of the Socialist Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, M. J. Coldwell, to defeat and reduced the CCF House membership from 26 to 8.

One district was still out.

The election completely eliminated the Social Credit party from Commons, including its leader, Solon Low. Social Credit had 19 members before.

The 62-year-old Prime Minister will be in a powerful position to rule as his party wills for the next five years.

The largest number of members any party ever had before was the 190 seats the Liberals won in 1949. Since his surprise victory last June, Diefenbaker had been governing with only 113, 20 less than a majority.

The Prime Minister swung into action immediately. He announced he was calling Parliament back into session at the earliest moment to tackle the unemployment problem, which he described as hte No. 1 issue before the country.

Unemployment was one of the big campaign issues. Diefenbaker proposed a billion-dollar development program to take up some of the slack. He opposed Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson's plan for tax cuts of approximately 400 million dollars.

Drive in today and you will soon know

Why the Hottest Brand Going is Conoco;

Try our gas, oil, service—and you'll agree,
-----!

For Example: It's Conoco care for my car—and me!

How to enter: Obtain an official entry blank from any Conoco Dealer. Complete last line of jingle printed on the entry card. Last line must rhyme with agree. Print your name and address in space provided. Enter as often as you wish, but use only official entry blanks.

Where to send: After completing entry, tear out of folder, affix 3¢ stamp, and mail to: Conoco Hottest Brand Going Contest, Box 7508, Chicago 77, Ill.

Other Rules: Contest begins April 1, 1958 and ends May 15, 1958. Entries must be postmarked before midnight, May 15, 1958. Contest is subject to the complete rules as set forth on the entry blank available at all Conoco Dealers'.

$100 Cash Bonus: Contestants who get an oil change with either New Conoco all-season Super or Conoco Super Motor Oil and have their entry blank certified by Conoco Dealer signing in space provided will receive a $100 Bonus Prize if their entry is judged as one of the 112 winning entries.

Hints to help you win: You'll have a better chance if your last line points up one or more of the following facts about Conoco!

Facts about Conoco Products:

Conoco Royal Gasoline with TCP plus . . . combines benefits of TCP! with exclusive oil-plating action . . . boosts power as it cuts wear as it increases mileage . . . protects as it powers.
